You know what I hate?

The ATF, no explanation needed.

You know what I hate? annoying and unnecessary sounds. Especially you snobby frickos that do that while eating, it's disgusting. I wish I could gather all these people up and line them up, and then just spray them with raid, except human raid. Even you snobby, rich, GD frickos who use brain rot language in person.

YOU KNOW WHAT I HATE?

PEOPLE THAT FEEL THE NEED TO MOST A MILLION IMAGES OF SOME CHICKS FRIEND WHEN ITS THEIR BIRTHDAY. Don't get me wrong I get birthdays and stuff, but seriously I have to scroll through all those memory photos, I hope whoever is in those photos dies for being annoying. As im getting older, chip upon my shoulder, Rollin' through life, to roll over and die, lalilalala, lalilalala, lalilalala, oh oh oh.

Other than that, this is a good vent page. Stick Around for more, I plan on updating this page when I'm bored.

Elephant Ending \(youtube.com\) Very interesting movie.

Ultimate C movie Tier list:

Best to least

Zero Day (2003)

Duck! (1999)

Elephant (2003)

They're all "meaningful" movies I guess, but to me I judge them on entertainment. Elephant sucks the way its portrayed on the screen, duck is funny.

I don't have fricking speakers so I'm using headphones, and these fuckophones can't even power the right side, it's always left side blind. It's better than speakers so I can just listen to stuff without the house hearing everything, but I have to press the cord hard into the port, otherwise I hear sound like it's from across the room.

You know what I hate? the way I look, like my face literally has a monkey appearance, especially when I got a short haircut NEVER AGAIN. Acne also increases that horrid projection. I hate my life and wanna die rn.

You know what I hate? When I save someone's snap, and they reply "?" STFU. There's no reason SC should tell someone every universe noticeable process you do, I could breathe, and it would send a breath notification. I guess I'll say "fucko" on this format, but that's it. Damn is too cringey for me to use, even though it's a "lighter" use of profanity.

You know what I love? those coconut GS cookies, I honestly love all coconut products.

I want to be anything on tv, I want to be famous, do you think they'll want me? YOU KNOW WHAT I HATE?

Don't get me wrong, I'm a vocal kid, but sometimes kids that laugh and try to "own" the teacher are so fricked, grow up, we are all in heck like you, and people who yell and get out of their seat because there's a fucking beetle on their chair, I swear girls in my school laugh WAY too much, like nothing wrong with that, I just don't get it, I'll say I definitely laugh more at school. You tend to laugh longer around people.

You know what I hate?

I have some fuckos in my LA period that steal my Chromebook case, and it's funny until it isn't, because this week they stole MY FRICKING PENS, I NEEDED THOSE PRICKS, it pissed me off for a bit I'll say, I must look for other writing utensil options, but damn did I need those pens.

You know what I love?

Se--uh human special interaction activity, I don't know if google can..take down my own site but whatever, never had it, but sounds fun, I guess I'm only 14 so, maybe later, life is like a box of..you get the point.

You know what I love?

EAS scenarios, they're so entertaining yet so simple, SCP-001 "When Day Breaks" EAS This thing terrified me in 2020, they're oddly terrifying for something so mundane. trollge incidents are also fun to watch, in the pandemic years I would spam watch that stuff, like I'd watch hour long Eas or trollge incident videos and be so occupied into them, they're so flippin cool.

You know what I hate?

When clumsy fuckos knock over their 200-kilogram metal water Bottle and laugh like "TeEhEe" SHUT UP YOU COMMIE.

Maybe people are too young and dumb, but I swear, I am a resident of Madisons Metro Area, it's not a bad place what can I say, but I have so many snap users from the Madison area, and they all sell vapes, most deranged gangster wannabe motherfuckos the world has ever seen.

There are a few gangster wannabes in my school, one of them was in a..very weird rivalry with me, but I think he's grown past that so were chill now.

I feel people think low of me, like I'll never be anything, I guess they're right, but maybe that's why, their voices.

No one will apologize to me; they will only blame me for how I respond. I try to be outspoken in school, but sometimes I lie back to lose the grip of drama, I don't like being the center of attention always, because then I feel guilty, being an attention seeker.

I know some people will love to call me a hypocrite for everything I say, but what I say is some of the most heartfelt, respectful thing I can do right now.

Just keep a low profile, you know it. COMPUTER MACHINE PANZERMENSCH, GEH GRADEAUS, GEH GRADEAUS.

You know what I hate?

I've seen less of this now because I think people have gotten the idea that I'm "more mature", but I hate when people have said "pardon my French" or try to act like I didn't get the obvious gross joke they said, please die, this stuff always pissed me off.

I think there is two groups of people that I'm against, people around my age, and the adults, people my age are really the real enemy, they pose the most hate to me, if you don't play the game, if you don't feed the machine, you're an outcast, and I think that's the reason I am, people see through me that their lives are based on lies.

I hate when people talk about my future, especially my parents, I'm not going to graduate high school, there is literally no point with the way this world is heading, I am doing something more worthwhile, maybe running away and living in Glacier NP, the only way I could see myself integrating into society is if I was famous, I feel so stressed when the world isn't listening to me, and that would only get worse if I died like that. I don't see what other people see in living really, I guess people at school have more interesting stuff going on, like having a BF/GF, being popular, but even all these people I see every day don't matter, in my life I've probably never met someone who will be remembered for more than 20 years after their death, I can't do that, it's disgusting and you people really don't see the damn state of this world, I feel so gloomy, overall, I'm not going To face this world, it's hard to. And maybe that's why I hate some famous people, because they have what I don't, I mean some I love dearly, because I have never felt any anti power to people like Flamingo, I mean im not trying to shift the reality all on him, he would never want that, but he's just meant so much to me. I hate VAs as well, I don't know why, a lot of them are just..like edgy has many terms, but I think there's a subgroup, people that just..I don't know I'd have to make a whole list, you know what, Sphix, sphix is my new word for people, the alienated people on earth, a mix of edgy people and other people I don't like, I hate people on the internet who make posts about issues and greenlight the whole thing, like Glitch's' fandom defending Kevin for the matter a few days ago, it's stupid. I just have a lot of resent towards some people, I don't know why and if I reread this paragraph, it might not even make sense.

You KNOW WHAT I hate?

MY NAME! I love my mom but go trip down a flight of stairs for this mental insanity name you gave me, DAMIAN?????? The ACTUAL HELL? It's so childish to me, I'd never change my name because that personally sounds stupid to me, damn I wish my name was cool like... YOU KNOW WHAT HERES A FRICKING LIST OF NAMES THAT WOULD BE BETTER: Karilouto, Jorma, Holopainen, Pekka, Eric, Fritzsche, Burgdorf, Fegeline, OK as you can see some of them are Finnish, and German influenced, Fegeline from Downfall would be AWESOME. I HATE MY LIFE FOR BEING NAMED DAMIAN.

2 kids I know, Devin and Ashton are suck fuckos, they constantly act like they own the school, Devin used to be really popular with his, shortness, but still. His fatso friend Ashton constantly says "I could beat your A" to me, I hope he gets his skull caved in in a car crash. So many people say they would beat me up, like, it's SUPER common at this point. WHAT DID I DO???? This is school, not the average high school in South side Chicago.

You know what I hate? YouTube SUGGESTIVE ads, and I mean that seriously, this dumb, basically corn with a P ads are so fricking stupid, whoever makes those needs to die and be eradicated, I think, and I'm no 1939 German, but there is a master group of people, Finland, Germany, Ecuador, Chile, Canada, Japan, Austria, Switzerland, USA, and Russia, these are the high ranking human beings that were put on this planet, in my opinion, so take that with a grain of salt I guess, but this so called world with these people in it would be top tier, the awesomeness of these groups, better than the "German View." The Finnish, even for being drunkards that are depressed, have truly showed their place in history, the top humans.

You know what I love?

Alex g, been exposed to him since I was a kid (2014 lsh, mostly from other people, pre k after school computer time is where I was exposed to internet), but recently I've REALLY cared about the pieces, like I'm more knowledgeable about a lot of stuff, it's great.

Realistic Hood Test is legitimately so good on Roblox, Office again, is a great FPS game. Office however THE GUNS ARENT RACKED ALL THE TIME SO I GET CLIPPED WHEN IM NOT ARGGGG. I think people will call this page cringe, and they're not wrong, I have a hard time expressing my ideas VIA computer sometimes, but IDRC, no one will see this site..well...for now.

Furries and therians, I don't see a problem with furries, STRAIGHT ones at least. But those THERIAN fuckos? that jump around, post Alex g (they massacred my boy) songs with edgy captions, I saw one video on X where this actual f slur that is directed against homosexuals, literally whimpers and eats a pancake, this country actually has a fricking, mental health problem, I mean again, unlike these furries I evolve one step past them, I mean again I actually have human awareness.

Treehouse || Aimsey and Guggie || Animatic \(youtube.com\) You know I actually like this animation, reminds me of E&D but as women. man, I might have to clean up this site if my "peers" find out about this, I don't know, I promoted this on my story, but only C really clicked on it.

You know what, I legitimately had a mental crisis over the animation called MISSING HALLOWEEN on YouTube, if anyone knows what that is check it out, but seriously the ending was SICKENINGLY sad.

I kind of hate YouTube Animators, and no not the ones that make animations like the one I previously linked, but the ones like Jaiden, TheOdd1sOut, Shgurr, and ESPECIALLY THE EDGELORD TABBES, I overall hate people like that, they just act too confident, even I may be guilty of that sometimes, but I still don't ever talk that mentally diseased Ly. Shgurrs deleted suicide content was shockingly like found footage or something, watching that series was insane, im sorry for her, see I can be human too.

SrPelo is great, TIMTOM is...an Odd1sOut copy, but I like him most, I'll be 100% truthful, some of them did help me solve my anxiety in 2020, LetMeExplain STds is VERY GOOD too, probably my highest liked female one. Emerichu and Daidus ALSO are very good, they're the ideal couple I wish I was in, but I've really gotten over that, and haven't cared, Wolfychu too.

Honestly, I guess I won't deny, I kind of fear women, not like fear but truly, I'd rather live alone the way my mind is thinking, I know people will view me as misogynistic, but make no mistake, I don't hate the gender, nor do I support any misogynists.

People that stalk famous people, it's just terribly embarrassing, I couldn't do that, especially ending up in a mental hospital, OR JAIL, the whole world is living outside, I could not see myself living if I was in jail for more than a month, feels like so much wasted time, I guess that if you can't do the time, don't do the crime. I guess I think it'd be cool to kidnap some famous people I know, show the lies, I think honestly, I could take Jaiden in a fight, but again I respect everyone's privacy and right to liberty. I'd never do that unless I'm ASKING for life in prison, but seriously it'd be fun, and they'd have no troubles other than getting shaken up. Ever since a kid I've wanted to be famous, I guess the world had always been smaller, the roads had a blue puffy cloud-streaked sky.

This is kind of why I've outgrown Storytime animators, they seem, to all be turning into gaming channels, especially Jaiden, so I guess everyone changes.

Like that Roblox clone tycoon song EVERYTHING CHANGES, and then it's just electronic music for the next hour lmao.

So, my school has a weird off-day tomorrow, it's nice, but not having it on Friday really makes no sense. These kids at my table often complain and have full beef because of Nitro Ball, it's so stupid, grow up.

Also, me and this other kid from school got pulled into the hallway because we had beef mid-class. Like these teachers got to be the most clueless to think I got to apologize for just 'chilling' were both friends too, we ended up getting my other friend, Dylan, yapped at. So, whatever.

Teachers often say they're preparing us for high school, maybe treat us like adults. Like, I'm glad you don't get suspended for saying heck anymore, but damn schools are so childish and stupid for a bunch of horny kids that are about to have a rude awakening when they're thrown out of school and into life, unprepared with our school system. And I don't blame school, but more the sociality in it, schools today are so outdated, not in the information, but with the worker creating ethic, so many successful people were not even done with High School. I do think you should somewhat ATTEMPT to be good in school, but still.

You know whats more childish than school itself?

The kids in it, always creating drama, especially girls, again, not a misogynist, but the girl culture in schools is so dumb and weird, even my Health Teacher from last semester agrees, Women are very hurtful towards themselves, even though males tend to be more physically violent.

I've always wanted to create gunpowder, it'd be simple enough, it's not illegal by the way (surprise surprise). I've always been interested in science, especially when it deals with fire and explosives, it's interesting. To make the old Chinese recipe of charcoal, say you need 100 grams, you get 75 grams of potassium nitrate (may be sold under a different name), 15 grams of charcoal (can be farmed by a campfire, or to confirm pureness, use store bought charcoal), and finally. 10 grams of Sulphur (sold as agriculture product), and then you mix with a mortar and pestle, then once you're done, you have a nice 100 grams of gunpowder, a 10-year-old can make this with the right enthusiasm. You always need to dampen your mixture, so you don't get blown up of course, and then, store somewhere safe, or hidden, I guess. There are not many practical uses for this powder, if you want to be a nerd you could make fireworks, and maybe a Firestarter, for dumber people. You can just have fun with it and blacken your driveway. This powder is often used in... illegal devices, so I do NOT condone making those.

I'm not even going to try to be "different" I love all the standard Alex G songs, Sarah, People, Sometimes, they're all really good I can't deny with my heart.

You know what I hate?

When I have to scramble to find my stupid cursor because it disappears for some reason WHEN I LEAVE THE SCREEN. I have been arguing continuously on Discord recently about the Alex Kister situation. I'm on Kane Pixels Discord, his series on YouTube is very good by the way, and I'm also on some other servers, like an example would be the HRP Discord. Pedophilia seems to be the main trend of YouTubers getting canceled and I think it's no secret why. I myself view this as an example of how society has been bred, turning sexual activity into this crazed thing that's both desired, and taboo. America is one nation that is often represented as super anti-sexual activity. I guess I understand this, but America has many other political faults, when we contain Americas pointless drug and alcohol war. It's also easier to get a gun in this sense, however I personally do not believe that gun control will work in societies such as America, with our mixed ethnicity population. I think when people are insane, as some reading this forum may view ME as, I think that's a sublayer of intelligence, I have a lot of self-awareness, I often worry about consequences of my actions, I repent pretty much daily. I don't view belief in God as ignorant, I think God truly died for us, our minds, even crazed as me, are all repent able, we're all just humans. I still make insults toward my fellows though, and I apologize for some of the hate I may seem to be spreading.

Also, I'd like to give a reminder, the dates on THIS website are not 100% accurate, in that I mean I might not even clarify a date for a while, even though I'll do occasional date makers. But what I'm clarifying is that not all dates on this website are accurate.

I've been interested in the story of the Winter War, and Simo, all the Finnish WW2 involvement, my favorite country to be in that scenario. I view all of this as a true sign of human resilience, and I think the USSR was terrible, the only supporters today are edgy 13-year-olds, even some my age, I think this horrible country was such crap and my hate towards them grows, and allies with Finland, today is the date Finland would surrender, all the way back in 1940.

You know what I love? well.kind..sorta..]

When I don't shower for a while and the bacterium on my groin builds up and gives a semen smell, I don't know it just kind of smells arousing in my opinion, sometimes it's gross because I don't want other people to smell it. This isn't a joke or any sort of dark humor by the way, I genuinely like the smell. But then sometimes it gets too much, and it smells like pee-stained carpet.

You know what I love?

Nostalgia, there's definitely layers to my nostalgia, Pop culture/modern nostalgia, home nostalgia, and maybe oak nostalgia.

Oak nostalgia is as far as I can go, my first memories, 2011 maybe, they're so faded, YouTube videos, and home nostalgia, the carpet of your first house, and then pop nostalgia, this is more modern, like 2016-2018 era, we're definitely in a nostalgic period at the moment in time, we just don't know it.

In 2012 did I know I'd be longing to get back to those times? no, just as it is now, nostalgia doesn't go away, it gets more relative. I think nostalgia, is a mix of sadness, disgust, and love. I miss the days of the past; Nostalgia can be the worst thing you can experience.

I think R34 should be more normalized, instead of the crappy "normal" corn industry. You might think hentai and artistic stuff is bad, and especially when we get to the issue of people that watch Loli R34 content, horsemeat, a kind of gross YouTuber, brought this up and said people that watch that should be sent to jail, I disagree.

Rule 34 gives people a way to live out desires that others find gross. Instead of them doing it for real or buying it from some horrible human trafficking site.

Phub is so fake and I think if we're going to have any of this content, it should be homemade, not the fictional obnoxious moans we hear today. Do you know how much times I've seen a video liked that, and just wanted to fricking bash their head in with a hammer? I don't think Rule 34 or phub has any benefits, or problems, but they're just media, take them with the same realism as movies.

Back to main point. Rule 34 has more morality, it's all fake, it's just a piece of paper that is warped to be perceived as sexual activity and I see it no different than the minds of many people across the world. Because of whom I am I think this argument will just be seen as me being gross, but no. I see this as pretty truthful. Rule 34 can range from softcore, and I'll be honest, I've never watched, or even really considered watching a P video that has penetration in it, only oral. That's just what I've grown up by.

So, here's the main argument. Rule 34 is a great safe way for mentally damaged people to clear their fantasies in some respects. Although I do think if you're actually becoming attracted to children, then you should be going to a therapist. It's ok up to a certain point, until you become a danger to others.

Some of the stuff on this website is just exactly how the mainstream society views me as, this whole website comes off as "hurtful" or "neckbeard content". Maybe you, society, you are the problem, people get groomed, in the stuff YOU advocate for. As a child I hated this the same way I do now, but I couldn't see it back then, I like drawn girls more than real life, they're perfect, even if they weren't, they'd have good aspects that we would be able to work out, but then again, I'll never be able to support relationships.

I know there might be people that call out gaps in my logic, because I guess in some places there are. But sometimes it's just the way I think, you can't expect everyone to be this normal person, but then, people that aren't normal can't expect not to be executed by society, either physically or metaphorically. We all reap.

I really wish to be in contact with some of the famous people I have mentioned. I wish I was older back in 2010-2015 so I had more awareness to create Discord, Twitter, or YouTube accounts, I'm a NewGen as some might say, but I can't wait further. I think social media is definitely one of the main contributors to teen depression and mental health problems. I think it's part of the reason I am what I am. I hate it, and sometimes I wish I was just even slightly younger, but we all grow up. We're all human beings, and eventually were all going to die out.

Again, I like talking on podcasts, haven't done much but I'd need to. Leaving online trace marks is very cool.

YOU KNOW WHAT I HATE?

WHEN MY DAMN CURSOR DISSAPEARS AND I HAVE TO LIKE RELOAD THE FRICKING SCREEN.

I hate red pillers, and blue pillers, both sides of the human political spectrum are horrible, I hate my existence because I fear everything, I AM TIRED OF THIS.

All you fucking famous people have had your lives handed to you with your talents, I guess nothing matters in the end if our faith gets our judgement. I'm not trying to come off as some righteous person, it's just what I believe in.

I think I need to reform this site; I need to archive these pages or something, I will find out how.

You know what I love? Talking Kitty Cat - YouTube THESE VIDEOS ARE AND WERE AWESOME AND I MISS STEVE CASH SO MUCH.

Steve cash was famous for making Talking Cat parodies, often with obscenity, but they were SOOOO funny, I miss him. He committed suicide in the shite year of 2020, his cats and dog would die shortly afterwards. The cats signified that the show couldn't go on, but Steve lost his human life, I hate the world for stealing people, his channel was so funny to watch, I've been watching since about 2014, same with the Sparta cat, who also died, tragically. I hate how tragedies affect people. You might think I'm biased for some reason, but I hate when people cry, or get sick and throw up, it grosses me out. I think everyone deserves peace again, sometimes there is more hope in tragedies that leave people alive for hope. I encourage everyone to do the best they can, and watch out for people, Steve Cash was a damn tragedy I never want to see on a YouTuber again. And I don't want even more serious stuff, RIP Steve. You made great parody songs as well, a great Family Man.

In the end I just want to snuggle with my theoretical girlfriend, I know I said im "giving up on relationships" but I still loathe this lifestyle. I feel even at this point with everything going right, my life is damaged.

By next Friday, spring break starts, and luckily, I'll be going to the Smoky Mountains, then shortly after that I will witness a Total Solar Eclipse in Texas, knock some things off the bucket list. I am glad I'm doing something for Spring Break so I'm not sulking at home, sometimes being alone and at home makes me reflect too much on my life, I hate feeling regret, but at the same time it's a good thing, I guess I deserve regret anyways.

I'm sorry to the people that came here expecting this to be a SFW fun website, it was supposed to be awesome but it's not that. It's probably apparent that this site is just a rant as it seems. But luckily, I WILL try to add more media opinions, especially when MD 7 comes out. I like journalling in my journal because I have more freedom of what to say. But I need to save space because I only have like 50 pages.

Look at this...

I need this SO bad in my life, cuddling up to someone and being their protector, look how much fun this drawing has the people having!

If you're a love seeking person, look this drawing in the eyes and tell me you don't care, it's beautiful, and I'll never get to have this moment with someone, I know that I am different, and unsuitable, yet I am afraid to tell the society.

Seriously just chilling in bed like this sounds so fun, I want to just rest my face in a conventionally attractive females' hair as I sleep, I have no words to explain it.

I often imagine scenarios, like if I had a girlfriend like this we'd go exploring, or something even more fun.

We could literally wrestle on the couch or bed playfully. DOES THAT NOT SOUND FUN???? I hate my life, but not.
You know what I hate?

The way my mouth kind of babies itself when I talk, especially on camera, I don't exactly know how to explain it, but it sucks, and I want to shoot it off.

You know what I love?

Listening to piano music late at night, beautiful sounds.

YOU KNOW WHAT I LOVE?

This song and animation, Kiss Me Again! \(Full Song\) \(youtube.com\) THIS IS ALSO MY BIRTH YEAR SONG. I miss that time, I guess I was too young, I don't know, You know what I hate? ADULT MONOLOGING, what I mean by that is the all to cliché remarks, on one advertisement for some white trash college the principal or whatever made the statement "students' prepare for the so called, real world, but the world does not exist in a bubble." On SOME degrees I respect that, but on others it's like the cow manure smell on a highway in Iowa, it's false, there is a "real world" excusing heaven, there is also a human real world, we grow up in a sheltered school environment, the more liberal your district is the more sheltered it may be. Then you're thrown out to work to death, THAT'S the real world. The sick place, you indoctrinate kids in schools. Every parent grooms their kids, THANKFULLY the mentally sane ones don't do it in the disgusting Colleen Ballinger way, but the sane ones do it in the INSANE way. See the reason why even when these parents indoctrinate their kids in schools, they're still sane, they were groomed as well, they see no wrong in it. I do, but I don't blame people who don't. Only rare people who do will be seen as "insane" they hate seeing that their lives are based on lies, I did too.

You know what I love?

When life feels like a movie, recently, walking to throw away my lunch in school feels so movie like, not just school. But when jokes are well thought out, even sentences, it feels like a kindergarten play.

You know what I hate?

Small talk, no I don't want to talk about the stupid ass weather and stop talking about "how was ur day" STFU!!!! MY DAY WAS HELL AND IT ALWAYS WILL BE. Plus, I have an unrealistic, but prevalent, wish for interesting stuff to happen. I kind of wish, if you're trying to start a conversation, only say interesting stuff, not boring small talk. Just another sign of the mundane reality. The small kid at my school, Devin, apparently touched a girl in our school, right on the chest, saying "I'm going to cum all over you." I guess I have no words, gross. Even Elliot Rodger didn't resort to sexual assault for not getting enough women, but then again, Devin was probably just trying to be funny, somehow, he's not suspended, great work MH Middle School!

You know what I hate? people that the teacher picks to read in class, and even in normal conversations, they mispronounce words, might just be my misophonia but it's so bloody. the education of the nation is failing! lol.

You know what I hate?

When my family thinks I hate them because I get off of the couch, let me move you fuckos. I can get up when I want, or leave a room when I want, this isn't Nazi Germany.

You know what I hate?

When my uncle Dusty, he's a good guy for the most part, a bit racist I'll be honest, but he always stays up when I'm trying to enjoy my weekend, even right now as I'm typing this he's making his diabetes salad. He's seriously going to get 100+ types of cancer with how much soda and other fattening foods he consumes. Seriously it's not even funny how unhealthy his life is, NO SLEEP, living off fucking junk food. seriously, if he finds this article, PLEASE STOP POISONING YOURSELF. And back to what I was saying earlier, I think he thinks I stay up late for him. YOU ACTUAL IDIOT, dude I stay up to play videogames, I hate when he says, "I love when my buddy is staying up for me at night." Because I TOTALLY stay up to watch you sit around, eat loud, and be a stupid loser with no point in life. Look my uncle deserves happiness, just like what I have wanted, but seriously the guy pisses me off so much. And I really don't know how he isn't depressed. I can't believe my entire family isn't depressed. My grandpa has lived in the shithole town for 50+ years at least. NO VACATIONS. And my uncle will probably be the same. I can't even live if I had a million dollars, I'd shoot myself if I were my other family members. I just don't see the appeal in ANY of their lives. And they say crap like "Well when you grow up you can move wherever you want!" NO I CAN'T!!! You basically damned me to be in eternal debt, without a huge loan for my entire life I'll be stuck in this white trash midwestern town forever. So the way I'm going in life is legitimately better. I know it's not healthy in any way, especially for the soul. I just can't live on. My family thinks I actually have a plan after High School, no, I don't, and if my parents ever look back, they might just see they knew NOTHING about me, and I don't blame them. I hope they sell all my stuff, maybe give it to people with PTSD, or war injuries, like Palestine. And with the rest I hope my family can go live somewhere nice, not this hell that I might die in. I hope they also turn to God, they deserve to escape, I might not. I don't want to bring my family further suffering. Sorry for the long rant, I wonder if you, the person from the future, can feel my emotions through the screen, see the parts where I was punching the keys with my emotions. Can you feel me? I don't know how to say it, but I wish I would've died in your arms, maybe the better way.

NOOO SCREW YOU YOUTUBE, fricking deleted a zero-day X Bones Library Suicide Edit, that was probably one of my BEST fuckin saved edits. DOWN THE DRAIN, 7-YEAR-OLD VIDEO. WASNT MINE AT LEAST. proves this fucking society doesn't care about my happiness, just because it's not "socially acceptable" hate this, wish I never got into Columbine, because I HATE when those edits are removed!! Screw you YouTube, fix your sex bot problem before screwing with my damn saved videos. Rip @thehardpart on YouTube. BONES - HappinessIsOnlyRealWhenShared \(youtube.com\) He made this video too, cracked edit. But rip the library suicide one, fuck. At least I have this one for now, BONES - LibrarySuicide \(youtube.com\) Also if people popularize this stupid site these videos will be spammed no doubt. Whatever, I guess.

You know what I love? The Unknown soldier, it's a good movie about the Continuation War. I've seen the older versions of course, but I really like the 2017 one. It's better. Karilouto inspires me. I don't idolize other people, but they tend to give me, very interesting thoughts. So that's how I claim all my ideas as. I have some original thoughts I guess.

You know what I love?

The ocean, what I would give to swim with a theoretical girlfriend on the coast. I've seen, even Lake Superior is awesome. The oceans are truly portals to other worlds. They're beautiful, I'd love to take a dip in the middle of the Pacific. Awesome. I've always went to Racine beach as a kid, Lake Michigan has always been a spectacle for me. LIONS DEN GORGE in Milwaukee, is my new swimming spot. It's a beautiful cliffy beach. I reccomend it, dearly. The Great Lakes are one of the biggest things that makes this state..not shitty.

You know what I love?

Techno Music, release my fricking playlist on Youtube, it has TONS of good techno.

Night core too. As for the whole thing, or genre of anime, I don't watch too much anime, especially not recently. However, I have watched a few. Yes, Oreimo. As well as the bunny girl one, and then the one with the earthquake in Tokyo, Tokyo 8.0 or something, I like those events so, combined they were awesome. Class of '09. That's about it.

You know what I love? Island cloudy skies. When it's a decent sunny day with beautiful puffy clouds. Man, it's beautiful.

Something I think, if you relate to me in any way, if you're reading this, it's really important that you must know. If I die, and you ever question, "Oh that was a wasted life." Well, not really, see when you die it might actually feel like the worlds ending, even when the sun will still rise tomorrow. So, I think purely in the simplest language I can say this, I've found my life's direction. This is what I want to do, and I'm sure some will benefit. (The stupid sun just went away, now there's no light shining in my room, ok it came back).

I know that some people, see, when I look at other people that have died for similar causes, I do feel sadness realising they're now gone, pointless. But what matters is the exact moment, so I don't see a hint of brainpower in saying "Oh that was pointless." Life will go on I know, but sometimes you need to change the path.

You know what I hate?

My uncle once said, well, a rich man and a poor man get the same grave on the side of the street. WHAT KIND OF STUPID MENTALLY DAMAGED LOGIC IS THAT?????

Also if your rich, I GAURENTEE YOUR GRAVE WILL BE BIGGER and more respected of course, (or defamed...). Seriously I wanted to gouge his damn liver out when he said that. Nothing matters on earth when you die. Why should I give a fuck where my grave is. Seriously fuck you if you ever consider that logic.

You know what I love?

The Fantastic Mr Fox. I quite literally grew up with that movie, being the same age as me. I find the movie so liminal, a great word. I love the animation, the movie really plays out a story, no motive in the end, they just fricking rob the grocery store. I remember when I was going to Mineral Point Elementary School, a kid brought up that movie. I talked with that kid, whoever he was, or where he is, for hours about that movie.

You know what, IT'S TIME FOR A NEW WEBSITE PAGE.

You know what I hate? sitting next to people when eating, I hate the way I eat, it's gross, no wonder I hate cafeterias. Se4rioudsly like idgaf if you think it's disrespectful for me to leave you if you're eating loud, it's gross. And when I move away the problems solved.

You know what I hate? Getting kissed (by my mom or grandma) and then I wipe away the spit and they think im being rude, It's disgusting, go to hell if you're gonna be pissy that I don't want your spit on me.

You know what I love? As a friend, Bannon Bradley, he goes to my school, he's been good at being quiet about my Elephant 2003 jokes, nice kid. I give my thanks to him.

You know what I love? BEEF BASTARD! ANIMATION MEME \(youtube.com\) whoever the heck this is.

PUMPED UP KICKS (2024 brainrot version)

Roberts got a big gyat, he'll rizz up all the thots, he won't tell you his rizz,

he's got a skibidi toilet hanging out his gyat, he's the brain rot kid yeah, he found a therian girlfriend, in his dads closet, with a gallon of sticky milk, I don't even know what

But he's edging to you, yeah, he's edging to you

ALL THE OTHER KIDS WITH THE STANLEY CUPS YOU BETTER RIZZ BETTER RIZZ, OUTRIZZ MY MEWING,

ALL THE OTHER KIDS WITH THE STANLEY CUPS YOU BETTER EDGE BETTER EDGE, FASTER THAN THE RIZZLER (x2)

Daddy left for the milk, he be mewling so hard, he be mewling so hard

He's bringing me a skibidi toilet,

Cuz there's white creamy stuff, all in the kitchen ice

I've been mewling for a long time, yeah my level 10 gyat, it's as big as Serial Designation J's reason with going to Ohio

say your towers on fire, must've gotten osama'ed

ALL THE OTHER KIDS WITH THE STANLEY CUPS YOU BETTER RIZZ BETTER RIZZ, OUTRIZZ MY MEWING,
ALL THE OTHER KIDS WITH THE STANLEY CUPS YOU BETTER EDGE BETTER EDGE, FASTER THAN THE RIZZLER (x2)

ALL THE OTHER KIDS WITH THE STANLEY CUPS YOU BETTER RIZZ BETTER RIZZ, FASTER THAN MY MEWING,
ALL THE OTHER KIDS WITH THE STANLEY CUPS YOU BETTER EDGE BETTER EDGE, FASTER THAN THE RIZZLER (x2)

You know what I love? Saruei. I just learned about this Vtuber and they're now my favorite, I even watch them on Twitch, and I NEVER usually go on Twitch. The Average Size in France?! \(youtube.com\) This is just a clip.

I think Class of '09 makes be anti-high school. So, I'm skipping it lol.

You know what I hate? Diversity, Feminists as well. As a kid I never dared say anything about blacks, I almost viewed them as super holy beings, but they are a magnet for crime. And no, I don't think that's inherent, but when you mix them with the drugs in Chicago, they turn into crime lords, it needs to be stopped, even Japan is falling for the immigrant trick. Weebs are truly...good. Think of how many times a weeb has really shot at a gas station, exactly, Japan wants weebs, not mixed races. And I should give context to feminists. Feminists are the bringers of the loss of the Nuclear Family, because extreme feminism may or may not equal lesbianism. Remember PolyTech.

You know what I hate? When YouTubers stop posting, it's like you fucking forgot about me, no, you don't owe me anything, but you screwed it up. I'm, just glad AliceBloodRabbit is back.

You know what I love? Russians

You know what I hate? Russians, they seem to be one of the bad countries in this world, drinking booze, fuckers should be shot. I hate their culture, the stupid 3 striped adidas sweatpants. Sometimes countries need to be scrapped. Russian women should be given to Finland, I guess their techno is cool. I hate Ukraine as well, stupid women live there. I just support them so they can kill Russia, once they're done, bombs away.

You know what I hate? Paddy Tarleton, He steals all the IRA songs, makes the lyrics anti-black/facist.

I am a master in deception, but trust me, my love for people is real. I just need to act even nicer.

Also I've realized people probably can't see this sites edit history. BUT you can use the internet archive wayback machine.

You know what..I don't even know, the internet.

Im addicted, I can't go to bed without checking my notifications, I HATED being on vacation, not being able to see my posts. It stresses me out when I cant find what I want sometimes. I seriously listen to all my nightcore songs before bed honest, I can't get them out of my head at this point..

You know what I hate? My hate

I have disrespected people, a lot on the internet/Roblox as a young ignorant kid. I've hated that I've also left people out, the same thing I fight against, I'm so sorry for those people. It's my fault, and I hope my theoretical death is a good enough sorry. I've been rude to people, I haven't done it much, but still, makes me sick. I have even cut out some friends.

You know what I hate? My lack of romantic acts. Like yes, I want a girlfriend, especially some of the females at school. But here's the problem, in the end I could never see myself with one of THEM. I'm just not compatible, I really don't know how to make someone feel special sadly. And honestly I don't think any of the females at my school see me any more than some silly-acoustic kid that tries to be funny. I'm glad some may not see my "other" side for a while. I don't mean to be all wolf-like, but I have a way different side than people at school see me as, I wish they would listen, I'll never be serious in their eyes, if I even graduated high school, I couldn't imagine just becoming another member of the rat race, seeing classmates after high school, it's disgusting in my opinion, it feels like I've already lived life. Only thing I really wish I could have time to do is swim in Lake Michigan again, especially by Lions Den Gorge, but other than that I'm done. I hate you people who hookup if you even read this. I know seriously how daunting it is, to even date my "dream girl" they couldn't know me, everyone at school knows my true disgusting cringe self, but fuck it, I don't need a dream girl anyways, I hate idiots and cucks who kill themselves for not being dated, like Elliot Rodger was a little stupid. And seriously, if you commit suicide because you don't get women, GOOD RIDDANCE. FFS.

Ok I think it's time I talk about the cuck Carter Vesely. This kid has legitimately been a terrible person to me, I have luckily been able to stay away from him recently, but at lunch break he said something annoying to me, they only say sorry when someone dies, like the victim. I wouldn't bring up the more extreme outcome.

I think one of the people, Dallas Campi, from my school is moving to Madison West, good for him, he'll be surrounded by fellow vapers ffs.

I kind of hate weed smokers, bunch of idiots. Don't breathe in anything that's not normally in your lungs. They lie to themselves and say it's healthy. Should it be legalized? sure, since we allow cigarettes and beer. But still, the R/Trees subreddit pisses me off. They literally think Mary Jane can fix cancer, such fools I'm not even kidding.

I hate getting home and then getting bored, even though I've been desiring it all day long, and then the weekend ends up sucking, maybe I just want to sleep.

Someone please design a Tec 9 that doesn't jam.

I've noticed that my pages "Elephant" and "Popularity" have, (in order from left to right) basically turned into my personal hates and opinions, and my societal views. And Murder Drones is just my media and favorite stuff, with imagery aswell.

US nowhere towns literally have no escape, there's no other constructive future for anyone. I don't want to say it's good, but it wouldn't be the worst thing if an American Civil War happens, or World War Trieneren, we need to escape.

I'm so tired, I literally cannot go on, I just repeat myself on this website.

I really like Kwik Trip Pineapple.

I fucking hate twitter, it's all politics, I like the MD fandom their though, they're the least toxic on twitter oddly.

All other twitter posts are some fuffag saying "Zoos are bad" but then they shit on a plate, disgusting.

"One day I'm model gorgeous, the next I look hideous; oh my god what's wrong with me, actually I do think about that, about myself, not in a, "what's wrong with me" sort of way."

You know what I hate?

Acne

I never really used to care or even worry about acne, but it's been so terrible. I have gotten acne all over my face, some is on my back to. On time my left nostril wall was inflated with acne, then one day I literally tapped it and the white puss BLASTED on the screen. Sometimes I pop my pimples in the bathroom, and I literally moan when they bust open and land on the mirror. It's just so disgusting. Also, after you get rid of the puss the blood comes out, blood changes depending on the type of acne for me. If it's a normal pimple, the blood comes out as a nearly clear but reddish substance, drips like crazy, sometimes if it's a "sunspot" or a big chunk of dead skin acne, the REAL blood comes out, as any other scab. But if it's a blackhead or a dark spot on my forehead, it bleeds a fecal matter like blood, it's weird my blood looks dark and gross.

When I pop my blackheads "hard to do" It's always a gross dark piece of literal cancer. It's so eerie. And usually if I remove a blackhead successfully it leaves a HUGE hole in my nose, and I mean huge, sometimes I can fit the tweezers a full millimeter in my acne spot. I'm kind of worried if I'm screwing up my face, if I grow up I'm probably going To have an army of acne scars on my face.

Recently I've also been releasing a milky substance from my acne, it's gross how much shit is in my face. Like if someone hit my with a shotgun I wonder how much puss would splatter out first. The milky stuff is really runny so I wouldn't care about semen.

Speaking of that, I've really been doing. Jerking stuff since I was 6, I literally did it emotionlessly at first, I had no idea what it was, I kind of remember doing that stuff the first time, it was at 308 Meadow View in the room above the garage. So, you can visit that house if you want lmao. But basically, I just did NOT know what I was doing, I even did it in a bathroom at the kindergarten, I was just feeling bored in class I guess...a student walked in seconds after...man I was so ignorant. But later when I grew up, I had basically been, "dry heaving" before 2020, but when I had TONS of free time during the pandemic, I would just do that when I was bored, sometimes I did it when I was stressed, I'd think about schoolwork or something bugging me, and it'd almost blow it off my mind. But soon enough, once Middle School started, WEIRD stuff happened. When I did it one time, something. Well, spilled out, and at first, I thought it was pee or some shit. It didn't look like semen, because when I google what it was, I learned about that substance, and I was convinced it wasn't, I didn't get into online, lustful stuff until really 7th grade. But time went on, when I did it vigorously got messier and messier, and then I had sex ed, and by sex ed, I mean fricking googling that shit, I feel like school Sex-Ed is falling behind if I had to google that stuff before they taught us. Now I healthily pump ejaculate out, I mean I'm going to be honest, until Middle School I didn't know how babies WERE made, but only 3 years later I'm just a horny fool. I guess "hormones".

I mean school Sex-Ed, and I'll be honest, they called it. "Puberty", was only covering the necessary parts. Nothing about having horny thoughts about someone. How to even manage that. The internet is the greatest school ever put out there at this point.

Now what has ruined my life more, pornographic imagery? Or Columbine, I'll be honest I've been watching the first stuff, I am proud of myself in one way though, I haven't watched anything more extreme than softcore (BJs), I've never really found Vaginal "hot", (anal is just disgusting). And really I find it hard to be attracted to real stuff, so sometimes I just use R34, and Hentai, and really, I don't even jerk to those things, I just like the canons and plot or whatever.

Now Columbine, ok so 100+ million US kids are probably watching/and or struggling with Porn. HOWEVER, how many people are dealing with a Columbine addiction?

Hell, not even 10 million people know about Columbine, at least my age. It's super interesting to me, I love studying it, and not just Columbine, Sandy Hook, Ecole Polytech, Kerch, All the School Movies. What has done worse to me. If I can say anything to people getting interested in that stuff: Don't, it screwed up my life in an irreversible way. I mean I can't say all people interested in True Crime will be the same, but sometimes it's just not good. Of course only 1 in 1000 will end up as weird as me.

Here's the problem, my comparison isn't even a comparison, it's more of a question.

And I like to ask you people this.

No one gets "Columbiners" very few even know what it is. There's porn addiction helplines, there's helplines for suicidal people, drunks, pedos, rapists, BUT NO ONE CAN HELP ME ON EARTH.

Like you need to understand the huge wall I have been backed into. What therapist can help me? I face worse criminal punishments than those that are suicidal (and most governments and health systems treat those people terribly too)

I don't want to hate on suicidal/depressed people at all. But they at least have help, there's not much, Columbiner help notice. Seriously it's so niche I'm actually trapped, nowhere to go, death is really the only possible escape, I don't wish to die anytime soon. I just want the gift of God.

You know what I dislike?

Military service members, people whos prayers were not completely answered, and just people who are having a bad life.

God says REPEATEDLY that prayers are requests, not buttons you push on a vending machine from the sky.

And military vets who lose their faith because of "The tragedy and horror of war." COME ON. Your faith was weak, be like Desmond Doss, that guy witnessed that shit on Okinawa, look at the movie Hacksaw Ridge. Like no, I'm not a vet so I understand PTSD. But if you lose your faith in the battlefield because you saw something "gross" You haven't been paying attention to the Bible, God never claims earth is a good place.

Personally, I have a belief that I keep to myself, everything God created exists, and I love it all, yes, I love all the gross things that exist in this world, it's all beautiful.

I also saw an LGBT say that "I'm not Christian because I had too many unanswered prayers." WHAT??? Dude, God doesn't...Ok can we actually see how stupid this is? This isn't heaven obviously; God won't just hand you a nice life. I really think were in an earthly meat grinder, some people will be pushed to the sides and have terrible, painful lives.

Ultimately, I can't claim to be "True Christian." No such thing. it's not a religion I mean, it's about being saved, I have my own sinful battles and I hope other people can be saved.

Honestly when I started out, even as a 6-year-old I had really Liberal views, now I'm way more conservative. I had faith in Jesus Christ in both spectrums though, there was a gap in between. Biggest thing I can say to people today: CHRISTIANS ARE NOT UNITED UNDER A SINGLE POLITICAL PARTY.

You know what I love?

Wubzzy, seriously this guy just screams but he's funny as fuck.

I have a lot of questionable content on my YT playlist, and for those who question it I have one response: Sometimes I just wanna be happy.

Sometimes Ads that are just too fake and obnoxious genuinely make me lose hope in living. Like the NerdWallet ads about "don't make your future you hate you." or any Liberty Mutual Ad, like it's not hard to make an Ad quick, maybe dig into MODERN humor, instead of being disgusting.

Looks like time is kind of running out for me, no going back for whatever I do. I can't give you the full story without my media.

What can I say, the internet is me as a person.

I'm sure my town being "Mt Horeb" will bring a lot of interesting connections.

It's funny all the cool stuff that was released in 2021, I'll list them.

Murder Drones

Class of 09'

Winslow House

Yeah IDK I'll come up with more stuff.

There is no pint for NATO to exist...EXCEPT Russia. NATO would dissolve without Russian Threats.

I have a really beautiful painting with birch trees that I like. I hope it gets sold for money, it's so deserving of eyes..

You know what I hate?

Closeups of people eating during food commercials. Fuck you, I hate when other people eat loudly or do gross stuff, seriously seeing that is worse than death. School forces me to accept it.

I made a video copy of the LTS Song-I've got no time, I had to check the stupid lyrics on the last part where "They're still out there to take what's left of mine."

You know what I hate? When I sound Ir*sh saying "The burning in her lungs" when I try to sing Sarah.

You know what I hate?

When the fucking youtube playlist wont open when I scroll up so I have to dig through my playlists to get to the fucker.,
